TESTIMONIALS.

Well known in the vicinity of West, Hebron, Mass.

WESTFIELD, MASS., 24th Nov. 1858.
Messrs. Sandford & Co., Gents: I feel bound to bear testimony, and, moreover, can truthfully say, that the claim which your publication of WISTAR'S BALSAM, have to offer, is not exaggerated.

I was taken sick with a severe and followed by an excitation nights, with symptoms of approaching disease, and being so much alarmed that my friends entertained serious fears.

I purchased a bottle of Wistar's and began to amend, and by the time had been exhausted I had entirely regained health. I shall always keep it in my family.

REAR GRAY, M.D.,
Of the firm of LO OMIS, LEWIS & CO.

Rev. W. W. Evarts, formerly Editor of the Congregational, Concord, N. H., more recently editor at Boylston, Syria, and now Chaplain in the Navy, says:

CONCORD, N. H., March 1, 1857.
MESSRS. SANFORD, FOWLE & CO.—Gentlemen: Two severe and violent attacks upon my lungs have left me very feeble indeed, and when I cough I feel exposed to difficulty in breathing. Your "Balsam" I keep at my bedside for expectoration, and when I feel the first symptom of the fearful cough, I take a dose, and find it relieves me. Before I commenced to try your Balsam, I had tried almost every thing, and had given up all the remedies I tried, I supposed the disease would carry me off. Being persuaded to try a bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which I found very agreeable to take, I found the difficulty in the first dose of your bottle was greatly diminished. Similarly favorable effects followed the use of the bottle, and I commend the article to sufferers with confidence.

With respect, yours truly,
HENRY WOOD, A.M.

FROM Chagres, Mines. Panama, Friday, July 22d.—Our gold excitement is in full swing. On the 20th the brig Josefa, commanded by a dough-face Yankee, Capt. Patterson, sailed with a cargo of shovels, liquors and provisions, and about fifty passengers, for Chirqui, the grave-diggers of "El Dorado." Among the passengers were half-a-dozen Americans, a few English and a monte dealer. The accounts that continue to reach us of the wealth of these Indian cemeteries or "huacas" in golden images and trinkets are every day growing more wonderful. A hat has been found of exceeding fine gold, and of great weight. Also, a jugful of money, but how large a woman is not stated.—It is a little curious, seeing with which contempt the Indians generally treated females, that they should have wrought the precious metals in fashioning one. It must have been a lost sick Indian that made that figure.

Most of the passengers who took passage in the Josefa carried silver with them to purchase the gold. It is said, if it is sold by the poorer class of the people who returning up the graves, at from three to four dollars per ounce. Yesterday another vessel arrived from Chirqui with a box of gold, but of what value I cannot ascertain. It is said, that one man at the grave digger's has taken out 75 pounds of ingots, but this is probably an exaggeration.

The tombs, it appears, are of great extent, some of them having contained many hundred bodies. The gold is said to be contained in earthen vessels by the side of the body. The grave where the "huacas" grows covered with trees, and it was by the falling of a large tree growing on the top of a mound that the deposits were discovered. The roots of the tree took with them the earth and mason-work of the mounds, leaving the gold exposed, which was accidentally seen by a man who passing close to it. Many persons who have gone down are enthusiastic enough to believe they shall find the source from which all this wealth was obtained. They may do so, but it does not follow they will get much gold from it. The Indians only used the article for ornaments, and it is more than likely that they scarcely two or three hundred years getting together the quarter million dollars worth that may have been buried with their chiefs and great men in the Chirqui sepulchre. Gold has never been found in New Granada in sufficient quantities to pay. California digger, and it is only from the fact that Indians in Peru and Antiquitas can be had for a couple of limes a day that the people of the Magdalena District are now able to export two or three millions of dollars a year.—Corr. Times.

Last week a gentleman from the west, visiting Boston for the first time, to attend the Trade Sales, arrived via the Bond route from New York, about midnight. On leaving the train he secured the services of a hackman, and directed him to drive to the United States Hotel. Jarvey seized his valise, packed his passenger into his coach with unusual alacrity, and leaped upon his box, cracked his whip, and rattled off through the almost deserted streets at a spanking rate. Away they went, up one street and down another until at last the plunging horses were reined up before the broad portico of the United States. "Much driver," inquired the passenger, "is my fare, sir—dollar fare, sir. All we're allowed—ten dollars, sir," replied Jarvey politely. "Ah! very reasonable," was the satisfied remark, as he paid over the half dollar; "and here's a dime extra for driving me up so quickly." Coachy grinned his thanks, leaped upon his vehicle, and rattled off. Next morning our western friend received a call from one of his Boston acquaintances, and, in course of conversation, happened to mention his arrival the night previous, and his ride up to the hotel.—"Didn't get" exclaimed his friend, "Why, you don't mean to say you rode to this house from the wharves on foot?" "Certainly I do. You don't think I would walk all that distance, do you?" "All that distance!" repeated the other, eyeing the vigorous proportions of his friend. "Why, how far from here do you suppose the railroad station is?" "Judging from the ride, about a mile." "How far is it?" "Just across the street possibly ten steps, it may be a dozen," was the reply of the other, as he pointed to the station from the window. "You have been the victim of a black driver! These men are becoming a load and their brethren in New York.—"No, sir," was the decided reply; "there was one exception about the ride which would have made you sure. I was in Boston, and put in New York." "Why, what was it?" asked the other, "Why, the driver charged me fifty cents, instead of five dollars."—Commercial Bulletin.

THE LIBERTY.—The following very apt paragraph occurs in the speech of Geo. Sumner, Esq., at the celebration of the Pilgrims Society of Plymouth, on Tuesday last.

It is related that a timeless of the war Washington said to the son of the Old Colony who had received the sword of Cornwallis at Yorktown, "We know what we Virginians have been fighting for; with burning forms and climate, but can you tell what you New Englanders have fought for, with your granite rocks and your cold and barren land?" To which the twenty-year-old of General Lincoln was, "Yes!—We fought for the liberty of using our hands and hearts." For freedom of speech and freedom of action.

W. T. ANSER, a favorite performer in the Lonsa Wells equestrian troupe, is about making preparations to do some somersaults at Niagara, which will utterly eclipse M. Blondin's feat of tightrope walking! He proposes, if Mr. Porter will allow scaffolding to be erected on Goat Island, to turn a somersault down into the water at the foot of the Island, a depth of one hundred and seventy feet from the point where he springs. He chooses this place because it is the only one with sufficient depth of water, and clear of rocks, for him to alight in.

A preacher of the Methodist church was travelling in one of the back settlements, and stopped at a cabin where an old lady received him very kindly. After setting provision before him, she began to question him: "Stranger, where mought you be from?" "Madam, I reside in Shelby county, Kentucky." "Well, stranger, hope no offence, but what mought you be doin' way up here?" "Madam, I am searching for the lost sheep of the house of Israel." "Jonx, Jonx!" shouted the old lady, "come right here this minute! he's a stranger all the way from Shelby county, Kentucky, a hunting stock, and I'll just be my life that fingerlickin' old rascal Jonx that's been in our flock last week is one of 'em!"

wards its tapering stem, with beautiful little green leaves. A young oak, tree growing in the way on the mantle shelf of a room, is a very interesting object. We have seen several oak trees and also a chestnut tree thus growing, but all of them, however, have died after a few months probably because the water, not being changed sufficiently often, did not afford them the necessary quantity of nourishment from the matter contained in it

The Constitutional Government of Mexico has, by special decree, honored the memory and recognized the great services of Baron Humboldt, though his studies and travels therein by declaring him benemerito of the republic, and ordering an account of the national treasury, a life-size statue of the deceased traveller and naturalist The statue is to be of Italian marble, and placed, with suitable inscriptions, in the mining college in the City of Mexico

A TEST FOR THE TIMES—The following eloquent passage, from Lord BROUGHAM, is commended to the notice of those legal quibblers who esteem human above Divine authority—and who have discovered a further mode of acquiring property, —additional to the old ones of purchase and inheritance,—that of stealing it

"Tell me not of right—talk not of the property of the planter in his slaves! I deny the right—I acknowledge not the property The principles, the feelings, of our common nature rise in rebellion against it Be the appeal made to the understanding, or to the heart, the sentence is the same that rejects it In vain you tell me of laws that sanction such a claim! There is a law above the enactments of human codes—the same throughout the world the same in all times It is the law written by the finger of God on the heart of man—and by that law, unchangeable and eternal, while men despise fraud, and loathe rapine, and abhor blood, they shall reject with indignation the wild and guilty fantasy, that man can hold man as property!"

Marriages of Consanguinity are discussed in the last number of the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal After a statement of the facts, collected by responsible medical observers, the editors say

"For ourselves, without the least partisan feelings we can say that we have seen too many direful instances of evil consequences from the marriage of near relations, to doubt in the least the pernicious influence exerted We cannot think that were the following question proposed to any right-minded and well instructed physician—Would you think it right to sanction a marriage between very near relations, say first cousins?—the answer would be anything but emphatic No Yet we have been told that such marriages are sanctioned by some physicians when their opinion has been asked—or at least, that an adverse opinion has not been decidedly given We do not, at this moment, recollect any such advisers ourselves"

DEATH OF HORACE MANN—A telegraphic dispatch in another column announces the death of Horace Mann, at Yellow Springs, Ohio, Tuesday afternoon Mr Mann was formerly Secretary of the Massachusetts Board of Education, and has also served as Representative in Congress from the District formerly represented by John Quincy Adams He left Massachusetts to assume the position of President of Antioch College, which office he held until his death His age was 63

The following account of the State reception of the French Emperor, at Paris, with his Address, and reasons for concluding Peace is thus given in the Paris Moniteur of July 18

PARIS, July 20 The Moniteur contains the following—Yesterday evening the Emperor received the great bodies of the State, the President of which, M Troplong, Count de Morny, and M Baroche, addressed congratulatory speeches to his Majesty

The Emperor thanked them for their devotion, and then explained his reasons for his conduct during the great events He said

"Arrived beneath the walls of Verona, the struggle was inevitably about to change its nature as well in a military as a political aspect Obliged to attack the enemy in front who was entrenched behind great fortresses, and protected the flank by the neutrality of the surrounding territory, and about to begin a long and barren war I found myself in the face of Europe, in arms ready to dispute our success or aggravate our reverses Nevertheless, the difficulty of the enterprise would not have shaken my resolution if the means had not been out of proportion to the results to be expected It was necessary to crush boldly the obstacles opposed, and then to accept a conflict on the Rhine, as well as on the Adige It was necessary to fortify ourselves openly with the concurrence of revolution It was necessary to go each shedding precious blood, and, at last, risk that, which a sovereign should only stake for the independence of his country If I have stopped, it was neither through weariness or exhaustion, nor through abandoning the noble cause which I desired to serve, but the interest of France I felt great reluctance to outrange upon the order of our soldiers to go beyond from my programme the territory from the Mincio to the Adriatic and to see vanish from honest hearts noble delusions and patriotic ones In order to serve the independence of Italy, I made war against the wind of Europe, and as soon as the destiny of my country might be endangered, I made peace Our efforts and our sacrifices have not been merely losses We have a right to be proud of this campaign We have vanquished an army, numerous, brave and well organized Piedmont has been delivered from invasion, her frontiers have been extended to the Mincio—Tuscany of an Italian nationality has been admitted by those who combatted it most All the sovereigns of the Peninsula comprehend the wants or salutary reforms Thus after giving a new proof of the military power of France, the peace concluded will be probably of happy results The future will every day reveal additional causes for the happiness of Italy the influence of France and the tranquility of Europe."

Supreme Judicial Court—August Criminal Term

APPLETON, J, PRESIDING

Thursday, August 4

The Grand Jury this morning brought in an indictment for murder in the first degree, against Marshal S Potter, for the murder of his brother Oliver Potter

The County Attorney thereupon moved that the prisoner be brought from the jail and arraigned

Potter was brought in and placed in the dock. The Court enquired of him if he had counsel — He said he had none. He was then asked what counsel he wanted He said Mr Knowles and Mr Garnsey The Court then appointed Abner Knowles and T H Garnsey as counsel for the prisoner

Mr Knowles not being present Mr Garnsey moved that the arraignment be postponed until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, to give opportunity to counsel to examine the indictment The Court allowed the motion, and further stated that process would be issued by the Court, for obtaining witnesses in behalf of the prisoner, on statements by counsel of the object for which they wished them

The prisoner was then ordered to be remanded, to be brought in to-morrow at 9 o'clock

The Court was unable to name the day for trial owing to the fact of a majority of the Court being engaged in the trial of cases in other Counties It would however be indicated at an early day

The prisoner looked well, though troubled with a severe cough.

Three other indictments it is understood, will be presented for the murder of his other brother, his mother and his nephew

State vs John Thomas and Felix McKenny Indictment for breaking and entering Market Lank about one year since Thomas was sentenced to four years in the State Prison The prisoner, whose personal appearance has here tofore saved him, very partly thanked his honor for his kindness McKenny is out on bail, and is understood to be in California

Pembroke Iron Works

The Machias Union contains an article upon the Pembroke Iron Works, from which we gather the following facts.—

About twelve years ago, the property was purchased by Messrs Wm E. Coffin & Co, who are now the proprietors The mills have been in operation nearly all the time since the present proprietors took possession, and the machinery has been improved, until they now possess all the facilities enjoyed by any company.

The capital now invested is about $100,000 Two hundred and fifty hands, on the average, have steady employment, though for a few weeks past, three hundred have had plenty to do — Throughout the working days, the mills are constantly running—the crew of "day men" commencing at six o'clock in the morning, and the crew of "night men" commencing at six o'clock in the evening

There are six "Double puddling furnaces," and the same number of "heating furnaces." The "puddlers" cut to the most curiosity in the stranger, it being their business to work at the furnaces, to reduce the "pig iron" to a liquid state, and render it pliable to the will of the "rollers" The "rollers" are a short distance from the furnaces, and have less of the excessive heat, but not less continued labor. By this rolling process, the iron is made to assume the different shapes, as regards length, width, and thickness, under the general head of "Manufactured Iron"

No of chaks of Nails, of all sizes, made in the six months, ending May 31st, 1859 10,204

" " Manded Iron, 2,460
" " Puddled Iron, 2,800
" " Coal used, 3,450
" " Pig Iron, 2,580

Pay Roll for April, 1859, showed as disbursed for labor, the sum of $9,200, for May, $8,000, for June, $8,200 The average throughout the year, is about $8,000 per month During the three months named, $9,700 was paid to vessels for freighting Two vessels are constantly employed, and at times during the year, half a dozen or more are required to do the business The nails made by this Company stand well in the market, and are in good demand. The rivets are made of different sizes and lengths, according to patterns furnished by those who order The machine for making rivets, is one of Mr Wadsworth's invention, and does its work with celerity, neatness, and order Altogether considered, it is a curiosity, though apparently simple in construction. It works with the ingenuity of human hands, but with a power they cannot of themselves wield.

The Iron Works are located on Pennamaquon River, just above the head of the tide, at the Lower Village in Pembroke, and but a few rods from the wharves where vessels receive and discharge their freights. Generally there is a good supply of water for driving the immense machinery in use a the year round. It is of great advantage to the town and surrounding country, to have so large a business done, and so large a disbursement of money made annually

Ladies' Gaiter Boots.

A little glove will suit my heart as it lies quietly in its cocoon
And snow white muslin, when it fits, wakes many a curious notion
All sorts of lady fixings thrill my feelings, as they hold sway
But little female gaiter boots are death, and not to be long shorter

And just to put you on your guard
I'll give you a short and brief,
A small hotel experience
Which filled my heart with grief
Last summer, at the Bangor House,
I stopped a week or more,
And marked two "boot-jes" every morn,
Before my neighbor's door;
Two boots with patent leather tips—
Two boots which seemed to say,
"An angel trots around in us"—
They stole my heart away
And often in my nightly dreams
They swept before my face
A lady growing out of them,
As flowers grow from a vase
But, alas! one morn I saw a sight
Which struck me like a stone
Some other name was on the book—
These boots were not alone!
A great tall pair of other boots
Were standing by their side
And out they walked that afternoon
And with them walked—a bride

TELEGRAPHIC

TO THE

Daily Whig & Courier.

NEW YORK, 4th.

British ship Jas Yeo from Newport reports sailing June 28 in lat. 47° 20, lon. 23° 05 a steamship on fire and abandoned. Ship was burnt to the water's edge and her mast gone. She had a second figure head and appeared to be an American built vessel.

Advices from Jacmel of the 19th ult, represent business there as being still dull.

The political news is of but little importance. The people appeared to be generally satisfied with the government.

A rumor is current this evening of a serious disturbance on board the steamboat Sip Van Winkle, which left this city to-day for the fishing banks. The disturbance occurred outside of Sandy Hook, and the boat, it is said is putting back.

The burnt wreck seen by the James Yeo, and supposed to be a burning of a steamer, was undoubtedly the wreck of ship Stalwart, which was burned about the time and in the latitude and longitude mentioned.

PHILADELPHIA, 4th.

The Mayor and Councils of Cincinnati were officially welcomed, this morning in independence Hall. They enjoyed an excursion on the Frankline Stock on, inspecting the 12 miles of gas floating on the Delaware river, and partaking of a collation on board. They landed at the navy yard and were thence conveyed to Point Breeze where they viewed the City Gas Works.

BOSTON, Aug. 4.

Middlesex County Democratic Convention was held this evening in Charleston, for choice of Delegates to the State Convention on the 16th Sept. Hon. Chas. Thompson presided. Strong Douglas resolutions were offered, which were advocated by Thompson, Edward Riddle, and others, but were laid on the table as incipedient at the present stage of the campaign. Forty-three delegates were chosen, nearly all of whom are said to be of Douglas proclivities, and in favor of the nomination of B. F. Butler for gubernatorial candidate.

Grand Division Meeting.

The Home Journal, in their report of the doings of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance in this city, give the following items, not heard in the public place:

A Grand Lodge report of about 1250 members, with about the same number of visitors, admitted during the quarter, and 15 new Divisions, with a total of 117 Divisions, and about 10,000 members and 3000 visitors.

The usual business of the session—such as the reception of the reports of all the standing committees, except that of the Committee on the State of the Order, was transacted with unusual despatch and with but little discussion. But the Report of the Committee on the State of the Order elicited quite a long debate, some portions of it, especially the speeches of Bros. Crosby, Lowe, Cady and Jackson, were very spirited and interesting. C. S. Cooper, Esq., of Dublin, in the negative of the report, and Rev. W. H. Hoben of Yarmouth, in the affirmative, made the two speeches of the session—indeed the best we ever heard on the floor of the G. D. Both are both eloquent speakers; but logical debaters, both good prohibitionists, and only differed in opinion in regard to the expediency of the Sons of Temperance enforcing the law, as an Order—inasmuch as one expressed an anti-prohibition sentiment, and we doubt if any was even entertained by any member of that body.

The latter portion of the report was the subject of this discussion.

The Committee were convinced that humanity and intelligent moral ty and religion, and the great principle of right and justice demanded that a traffic or sale of intoxicating liquors or beverage should be prohibited by law thoroughly and impartially enforced—[that the enormous effort of our glorious enterprise is the universal adoption of a Prohibitory Law, whereby the distilleries and breweries of the accursed liquor traffic shall be shut in the interests of humanity in time and truly and be stayed—and that to inaugurate such an act is the legitimate mission of order to aid in the accomplishment of so desirable object, the imperative duty devolving upon every true representative and faithful Son of Temperance.

Only by divisions, (26 to 9,) the report was adopted by striking out that which we have enclosed in brackets, and inserting instead thereof the following:

And the true mission and leading purpose of the Order of the Sons of Temperance is to create and sustain such a moral sentiment in the community, with reference to the traffic in and use of ardent drink, as a beverage, as will secure practical obedience to the great principle of total abstinence from all that can intoxicate, in every member of the community, and the entire suppression of such traffic.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the G. S. be and is hereby directed to convey the thanks of this Grand Division to the proprietors of the steamer Daniel Webster, to H. H. Cushman, Esq., Superintendent of the Kennebec and Portland Railroad, and to Joseph Eaton Esq., Superintendent of the Somerset and Kennebec Railroad, for their kindness and courtesy in allowing the members of this body to pass to and be returned from Bangor at half fare.

The members of the Grand Division from abroad were very courteously and cordially entertained by the brothers in Bangor, and no doubt they will ever remember this session as one the bright spots in life's journey.

The next session is the annual one, and will be held in Portland, in October.

The Accident.—We understand that Mr. A. Haines, of Fort Fairfield, was seriously injured by a bull one day last week. Mr. H. was leading the animal to water, when suddenly the furious brute attacked him, threw him over and trampled him under his feet. His ribs were broken, and he suffered other injuries. A narrow escape.—Pioneer.

FLAX.—Mr. D. E. Pike brought into our office last week some stalks of flax, raised on his father's farm in this town, that measure three feet and six inches in length.—Pioneer.

A GREAT YIELD.—Mr. H. Wing of the Mattawamkeag House, informed us that no less than three quarters of an acre, he got this season, 4500 lbs, (two and one fourth tons) of hay.—Pioneer.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Stephen Jones, of Turner, died almost instantly last Sunday, of disease of the heart. He had just returned from Church. Aged 70 years.—Advocate.

BURNING.—The Bates Manufacturing Company have commenced the erection of a machine shop and dye-house, with a length of about 100 feet. They also purpose putting up a "waste" building.—Lewiston Adv.

DIVIDENDS.—The Bates and Hill Manufacturing Companies each declared a semi-annual dividend of five per cent, on the first of July. The paid in stock of the former is $300,000; of the latter about $400,000.—Lewiston Adv.

A correspondent of the Gardiner Pearl speaks in high terms of Dodge's Hotel, of this city, A. T. C. Dodge, Proprietor.

SOUTHERN FUN.—At dinner to-day, at one of our oyster Hotels, (says a New York correspondent,) I was amused with the orders given to the waiters by a raw Kentuckian. He took up the bill of fare, and after looking along the list, stuck a pin where it read—"A fillet of veal, with Mad. W. sauce"; Mad. W. meaning, of course, Madeira wine.

"Look here, nigger!" said our Kentuckian—"bring me some of that 'ar fillet of veal, with the Madam W. sass!"

"What you say, sah?" said the waiter.

"Bring me some of that filly o' veal, and Madame W. sass."

"Dere ain't no Madam W. sass here, sah!"

"Look here at this paper, you blasted nigger! Do you see where that pin is stuck—now bring me some."

"O, yes, sah!" said the darkie—"What funny folks dese Suddorners is!"

The Portsmouth Chronicle says Mr. Daniel Fernald of that city is 103 years of age. He is quite smart for an old gentleman.

Heimstreet's Hair Restorative.

This Hair Coloring is one of the singular inventions of modern times, and, in its way, deserves a prominent niche in the great storehouse of modern improvements. It is a triumph of Art over Nature in colors, and often slightly suggestive. When the vessels of the scalp become old, and but poorly perform their function—born out as it were by the fevers of the brain, generated often by active mental strife and excitement, nature marks the decay with a growth of gray or white hair. Heimstreet's Hair Coloring comes in, and a few applications restore the vessels of the scalp to their original health.—Troy Budget.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, in another column, and we know from their own final we better remedy for coughs, colds, asthma, bronchial affections or any disease of the throat or lungs.

In August, 1855, an estimable friend of ours returned from a visit in the country much exhausted and laboring under a severe cough, which had made rapid inroads upon her constitution that we felt something must be done at once, or she would become a victim of consumption. Having known the beneficial results which have occurred from the use of Wistar's Balsam, we made purchase of some for her, and are happy to say that before she had taken the contents of one bottle her cough had entirely left her and she is now in the enjoyment of excellent health.—Ohio Branch, June 25, 1859.

HISTORY AND DESCRIPTION

OF

New England.

VOLUME ONE, 1000 pp.

Embracing the States of Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont.

By A. S. Coolidge and J. B. Mansfield,

This Work is designed to afford a complete and correct picture of every Town and County in New England, in a historical, geographical and statistical point of view. Almost every son of New England will here recognize the familiar names of his ancestors, or his kinsfolk, among those who were early settlers or have acted a prominent part in the history of his native place. More than eight hundred and fifty towns are described in the first volume, each occupying space adequate to its importance, varying in one fourth of a page to ten pages. Households changed by the fortune of every town, how or when settled, has a place in this work, the villages and recollections of every reference to which is found in a very complete and carefully prepared Index.

In addition to the body of the work appears a supplementary account of towns and plantations in North and Maine, particularly in Aroostook county; a full list of works on General and Local History; a Table of Lights on the Coast, with their relative positions and signals; the names of the Presidents of the United States, Presidential candidates, and the popular vote for each; of Presidential Electors, and the Electoral votes of Governors and Gubernatorial candidates, and the vote for each, and of members of Congress, all from the organization of the several States to the present time. It is illustrated with upwards of Eighty Beautiful of Cities, Villages, and places which are peculiarly interesting on account of their Historical association, both as well as it contains a carefully drawn and handsomely engraved

Township Map of each of the States.

This work is, beyond comparison, the ablest, and at the same time the most popular work on New England History that has ever been presented to the American public.—Portland Daily Advertiser.

I have examined the first volume of the "History of New England," and am surprised at the amount of labor that has been expended upon the work, and the fullness and accuracy with which the numerous articles have been prepared. The mechanical execution and illustrations are honorable to the arts, and add to the pleasure of consulting the work.—[WM. WILLIS, President of Maine Historical Society.

I am truly pleased with the appearance of your "History and Description of New England." It contains a vast amount of matter of great interest and value to the people of New England, which has never before been published, and is now made easily accessible to all. Your book is deserving of a wide circulation, and I think you need have no doubt that an appreciating public will, when you have to deal with them, amply sustain you in this great enterprise in which you are engaged.—[JOHN MCKEEN, Secy. and Treas. Me. Hist. Society.

Published by Marks & Coolidge, 30 Court Street, Boston.

Agents Wanted.—Men possessing good address and familiar with the country are wanted to act as agents for the distribution of this work in every County in the State. All communications addressed to J. B. Mansfield, Bangor, Me., will be promptly attended to. aug2

DR MOWES'

VEGETABLE BITTERS.

THE Public is here presented with a new Tonic Alterative and Cordial Bitter, compounded by Dr. Mowes of Lowell the inventor and proprietor of Mowes celebrated Cough Balsam. These Bitters are purely vegetable, as is testified by the distinguished chemist to whom they were submitted for analysis. They are both pleasant to the palate and healing to the stomach, agreeable as a beverage, and effectious as a medicine. They are fully equal after taking food with any other bitters, for stimulating of the system, and other like ailments, we find in these Bitters instant relief. Travellers will find in them a cordial to give perfect health, and a powerful tonic to ward off the effects of the malaria of the country. As a preventive against counteracting these Bitters have been copyrighted by the District Court of the United States. The following certificates, from an eminent chemist and a distinguished physician of Boston, furnish a sufficient guaranty of the quality of these Bitters—

BOSTON, August 4 1858.

DR DANIEL MOWES

Dear Sir—Having subjected the sample of Vegetable Bitters received from you to the most careful chemical analysis, I am unable to detect the slight presence of any other than purely vegetable ingredients in them.

Yours, &c. CHARLES T. JACKSON

Dr. DANIEL MOWES, BOSTON, August 4, 1858.

My Dear Sir—I have given the sample of bitters received from you a careful examination, and find it to be composed of only such vegetable ingredients as are highly prized by our profession for the tonic medical properties. The formula is plain and so my shows the compound to be a well selected combination of valuable medicinal agents.

Yours, very truly, &c.

TESTIMONIALS

Regard Mr Eddy as one of the most capable and successful patent Pioneers with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MAGINN

Commissioner of Patents

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of securing their patents, than application has in form to secure for them the favorable consideration at the Patent Office

EDMUND BURKE.

Late Commissioner of Patents

Boston, February 8 1858

Mr R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications for patents, in all of which patents have been granted, and that is unusual in such cases. Such unusual success is a great claim and ability on his part. I take this opportunity to express my high opinion of his ability in the profession, and I do so in the cases and I very reasonable charge.

JOHN TAGGERT

From Sept 17th, 1857 to June 17 h, 1858, the subscriber in course of his large practice, made on twenty rejected applications, his NEW CAPITAL EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents

New England Ailments

AND

THE ONLY REMEDY!!

THE Eastern States, included, in that section of the Union which is most widely known as New England, contain a thrifty, industrious, intelligent people, who have attained a much greater degree of prosperity with a climate extremely trying to social conditions, and in soil of small fertility, than have contributed to surpass favored communities in almost every thing that contributes to social comfort and happiness. But unfortunately they are occasionally visited by a malady, so insidious in its attack, so obstinate in its progress, so fearful in its consequences, and so baffling of all remedies, that it has long been the dread of the entire community. This disease, complicate in its nature, and of the active energy of its elements, and so fatal in its results, is the well known and dreaded disease of Dyspepsia, which has never been equalled by any medicinal preparation, and has baffled all skill and science for a long period. Its victims have been numerous, and its ravages have been fearful. Dyspepsia and its attendant evils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Nervous Debility, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Dizziness, Nervous Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back, Limbs, &c., &c., &c., are the offspring of this disease. The Stomach is the prolific source of all the diseases which afflict the human race, and it is the first to be affected by the disease of Dyspepsia. Indigestion
